I will not forget the many rainy days, the spraying of a hose on a roof to see if it still leaked (priceless), and the last minute meetings at a house on your way to your kid's baseball tournaments. "Always responded to our phone calls, concerns etc promptly, and if she was out of town, she had her assistant to back her up. Promptly sent all of the documentation that was needed to be signed via email or internet. A pleasant, and reasonable person to deal with. The house was well marketed via the internet. She had the initial video, and pictures of the house online within a very short time frame. Ultimately the house was sold in December, which typically is a difficult time to sell a house."
